Career Progression

My professional nursing career began as a bedside nurse and a charge nurse in the intensive care unit at a community hospital. I then became a nursing supervisor and then a clinical nurse specialist/educator in the intensive care unit. I have been the corporate director of Clinical Education and Research for a hospital system and I have been an educator at all levels of nursing and currently serve as an educator in an MBA program (Healthcare Administration track) at a major university. I work as a research and education consultant in my own business and I’m very proud to have been an officer in the United States Air Force.
